SEL Team

---

---

---

---

An SEL team is in the initial stages of development.

An SEL team meets occasionally with few structured roles and responsibilities.

An SEL team meets regularly with designated roles and responsibilities. Youth, teachers, OST staff, families, and community groups are consulted when teams are making decisions that would directly impact them.

An SEL team with designated roles and responsibilities, meets at least monthly to reflect on data, plan for improvements, and lead systemic SEL initiatives. The team is representative of the community and includes school and OST staff, youth, families, and community groups in decision-making processes.

Foundational SEL Learning Opportunities

Foundational SEL learning opportunities are not yet provided.

Foundational SEL learning opportunities have been provided to some key stakeholders (school and OST program staff, families, and community partners). Members of the community have a general understanding of SEL and its impact on youth development.

Foundational SEL learning opportunities have been provided for school and OST program staff, families, and community partners but are not yet offered annually. Many members of the community can discuss SEL's importance and its impact on youth development.

Foundational SEL learning opportunities are provided for all staff in the first year of implementation and then at least annually for new school and OST program staff, families, community partners, and as part of the onboarding process. Almost all members of the community can discuss SEL's importance and its impact and understand their own role in helping youth develop social and emotional competencies.

Two-Way Communication

Two-way SEL communications between the SEL team and all stakeholders have not yet been planned.

Some structures support two-way SEL communication between the SEL team and all stakeholders are in place, but are not yet used in ways that are consistent

The SEL team and leadership engage in consistent two-way SEL communication with all stakeholders including staff, other school and program-based teams, community partners, families, and out-of-school time providers.

The SEL team and leadership engages in consistent two-way SEL communications with all stakeholders including staff, other school and program-based teams, community partners, families, and out-of-school time providers. The SEL team regularly reviews whether communications are effective at engaging stakeholders in systemic SEL.

Leadership and staff are familiar with the cultural backgrounds and life circumstances of the young people in their classrooms or programs, and the local community context. Instructional and programming materials offer diverse representations of culture, race, gender, and other identities. SEL practices provide opportunities for some youth to learn about cultural differences.

Leadership and staff are deeply knowledgeable about the lived experiences and cultural backgrounds of the young people in their classrooms and programs, and the local community context. Instructional and programming materials offer diverse representations of culture, race, gender, and other identities. SEL practices provide opportunities for youth to learn about cultural differences, explore and celebrate their own social and cultural identities, and collaboratively develop inclusive and equitable learning environments.

School and OST Climate

The SEL team has not yet prioritized climate efforts.

The SEL team is beginning to plan climate improvement efforts. Norms and shared agreements have been collaboratively developed and aligned to the SEL vision.

The SEL team meets regularly to plan climate improvement efforts and is beginning to collect climate data. Norms, shared agreements, routines, and procedures support the SEL vision and climate.

The SEL team regularly assesses climate (through observational data, surveys, etc.) and meets regularly to plan improvement efforts based on data. Norms, shared agreements, routines, and procedures support the SEL vision and climate.

Evidence-based SEL Programs and Practices

The SEL team is in the process of collaboratively selecting an evidence-based program aligned to the vision and goals, and cultural and linguistic strengths.

The school and OST program are beginning to provide professional learning around evidence-based SEL program and practices aligned to the SEL vision and goals, and cultural and linguistic strengths.

The school and OST program are implementing with fidelity an evidence-based SEL program and practices for some youth, and providing ongoing implementation support to staff. Program and practices are aligned to the SEL vision and goals, and are culturally- and linguistically-responsive to youth.

The school and OST program are implementing with fidelity an evidence-based SEL program and practices for all youth, and providing ongoing implementation support to staff. Program and practices are aligned to the SEL vision and goals, and are culturally- and linguistically-responsive to youth. The SEL team regularly uses data on fidelity of implementation to inform planning.

Youth Voice and Engagement

Youth do not yet have opportunities to take on leadership and decision-making roles.

Some youth have opportunities to take on more traditional leadership roles such as student council, patrols, or leading announcements.

Youth are offered many opportunities to take on leadership and decision-making roles that inform SEL initiatives, instructional practices, and climate. Youth have opportunities to lead activities, solutions, and projects to improve their learning spaces and the broader community.

Staff honor and elevate a broad range of youth perspectives and experiences by engaging them as leaders, problem solvers and decision-makers, offering ways for youth to shape SEL initiatives, instructional practices, and climate. Youth regularly initiate and lead activities, solutions, and projects to improve their learning spaces and the broader community.

The SEL team has not yet identified a structured and ongoing process to collect, reflect on, and use data to inform decisions.

The SEL team is in the early stages of identifying a structured and ongoing process to collect, reflect on, and use data to inform decisions.

The SEL team has a structured, ongoing process to collect, reflect on, and use data to inform decisions. This process is used at strategic times (e.g., the beginning and end of each year), but does not yet happen consistently at each team meeting. The team communicates with and includes staff in this process on an annual basis.

The SEL team uses a structured, ongoing process to collect, reflect on, and use implementation and outcome data to inform decisions during each meeting. The team is empowered to lead staff in this process by regularly (at least quarterly) communicating their findings and creating opportunities to use data to drive continuous improvement at all levels (school, OST program, classroom, and community).
